IMPORTANT NOTES

Local VAT taxes

An 18% tax over hotel services is applicable only to:

- Peruvian and foreign residents of Peru.
- Foreign travelers staying over 60 days in Peru.
- Foreign guests sharing a booking with at least one Peruvian or resident guest.

Passport

Passports MUST be taken with you on your excursion to Machu Picchu as this document will be requested at the train stations and at the entrance gate to the ruins.

Entrance Tickets in Cusco & Sacred Valley

Entrance tickets MUST be taken with you for attractions in Cusco and the Sacred Valley; these will be required at the entrance gate in each site visited. It is known as the Cusco Tourist ticket or BTC (Boleto Turístico Cusco).

Handling the altitude

Altitude sickness, known as soroche in Peru, could be a problem for visitors traveling to the Andes region above 2,500 meters (8,000 feet). The best way to prevent it (headache, dizziness, fatigue) is to eat lightly, and drink plenty of fluids. It is recommended to ascend gradually to become acclimated and rest on the first day of your arrival. Oxygen is available upon request.

Peru is not a particularly risky destination, however like in any other country or city, it is important to keep a close eye on your personal belongings at all times.

Metropolitan Touring Peru cannot be held responsible for:

- Lost money, jewelry, mobile phones, cameras or any other personal articles.
- Items forgotten at hotels, in vehicles, during tours, etc.
- Baggage lost or delayed during international or domestic flights.

Disclaimer – Adventure Activities

Any traveler including adventure sports (*) in their Peru program, are required to sign a disclaimer form that will be delivered by our staff in each destination where said activity is carried out.

In case the traveler does not wish to comply with this form, Metropolitan Touring Peru is enabled to refrain from offering the requested service in accordance with the internal company policies and will not be eligible for any refund.
